Will we grab the moment?

Jennifer René Daniel

<sup>1</sup>
The world is full of darkness
Of hopelessness, despair
No certainty, no guidelines
No empathy, no care

<sup>2</sup>
God calls His precious children
Within the world to shine
To point men to His mercy
To reach them at this time

<sup>3</sup>
Though dim may be their knowledge
Of what the Lord hath done
This time gives you the platform
To point them to God's Son

<sup>4</sup>
Are we blind to the chances
That fill this short season
To point men to our Saviour
To seek their souls to win

<sup>5</sup>
Shall prejudice preclude us
From seeing man's great need
Or will we grab the moment
To be a light indeed?

We are grateful for each invitation Keith received to preach this past year across South Africa, North America and New Zealand. A detailed survey is given overleaf. We worship God for His dealings in many lives as hundreds of souls have sought Him for salvation and various other spiritual needs.

We thank Don and Vicki Courville, their family and the Maranatha Baptist Church at Springfield, Missouri in the USA for co-ordinating Keith's annual ten week tour of America and for distributing our bi-monthly newsletter there. The sacrifices they have made to enable us to continue ministering so broadly across their land are deeply appreciated.

Special thanks to Alta Ferreira who so ably carries our office workload here in South Africa.
