

Wherefore didst thou doubt?

Jennifer René Daniel

Ah Peter, you had walked in faith
As from the boat you went
Your eyes upon Me riveted
Your footsteps to Me bent

But then your feet began to sink
Beneath the roaring sea
The howling wind, the tempest roar
Crippling your faith in Me

And when you cried in terror, child
My hand was there to grasp
E'en from the depths of deep despair
With such a tender clasp

At first you did not look around
Though waves had towered high
T'was only joy within you heart
Aware that I was nigh

Your eyes had turned from Me, dear child
To all that threatened you
Flound'ring you sank in deep despair
Before the watching crew

But child, you could have walked to Me
Staying erect in form
If you had kept your eyes on Mine
Despite the raging storm!

Wherefore didst thou doubt, My son
When I was there throughout
Surely when I had answered, 'Come'
There was no need for doubt
